Biography

I earned my medical degree from the Université Libre de Bruxelles (ULB), followed by a specialization in urology in 2008 after training in several renowned institutions in France and Belgium, with additional qualifications in neuro-urology and pediatric urology.

I am currently a senior Academic Hospital Practitioner and Head of Focal Therapy for prostate cancer using the HIFU Focal One® technology. I am also involved in the management of female functional urology and neuro-urology conditions, with particular focus on improving patients' quality of life.

I am deeply convinced that a personalized approach, combined with careful attention to patients' needs and concerns, is essential to delivering optimal care. My ambition is to provide high-quality treatment while ensuring the patient's well-being remains central throughout their care journey.
